Stony Brook Film Festival celebrates 30th year

Stony Brook University's Staller Center for the Arts turns into a movie lover's mecca when new independent films screen at the Stony Brook Film Festival on evenings from Thursday, July 17 to Saturday, July 26. The popular festival, now in its 30th year, will become a hub for some of the best filmmakers working today, a meeting ground for favorite actors and rising stars, and a showcase of new masterpieces as it pairs memorable short films with an array of features you won't see anywhere else.

This year's festival will showcase 36 films from 19 countries and kicks off with the East Coast Premiere of The Ties That Bind Us, a beautiful, surprisingly realistic film in which a set-in-her-ways 50-something single woman finds herself in a slowly shifting relationship with two children who live in her apartment building. This intimate, poignant, and ultimately joyous film wrestles with the question of what defines family.

The examination of the strength and limits of family continues through many of the films at this year's festival, including the action-drama Way Home, that features a father struggling to bring his radicalized son back home from war-torn Syria; the challenging and inspiring drama Nawi, in which a young Kenyan teenage girl's dreams of attending High School are jeopardized by her father's plans to marry her off; the hilarious Mazel Tov, where a quick-talking, neurotic man who has been estranged from his siblings, returns to Argentina to mend his broken relationships — if he could only keep his big mouth shut; and a thought-provoking and gorgeous reverie from India called The Umesh Chronicles, that follows a woman from a privileged background considering the very different life of the servant-boy that grew up with her.

Finn Wittrock gives a finely layered portrayal of a filmmaker plagued by his past in the offbeat and witty Long Island-based feature Westhampton, a beautifully shot tale of forgiveness and acceptance by Long Island native Christian Nilsson.

Shot on location at his grandfather's scenic ranch near the border of Mexico, JT Walker's epic La Gloria stars David Morse as an aged rancher struggling to earn the trust of an immigrant woman he accidentally wounded.

Director Joel Alfonso Vargas has created a work of art that harkens back to the 70's heyday of independent cinema with Mad Bills to Pay: (or Destiny, dile que no soy malo), a film that explores the struggles of a 19-year-old man-child navigating his new responsibilities after bringing his pregnant girlfriend to live with his family in the Bronx.

STONY BROOK FILM FESTIVAL

The pleasing aroma of new culinary discoveries permeates two of the festival's independent features. In the beautiful period drama Mistura, a privileged French-Peruvian woman embarks on a daring culinary venture with the very people she had been raised to disregard. At the same time, in the uplifting documentary Ali Eats America, a teenage cancer patient plots a map with his mother of all the restaurants he wants to visit across the country.

Other can't miss films include the wildly unique Animale featuring SBFF favorite Oulaya Amamra of Divertimento and Hard Shell, Soft Shell. In this western/horror/mystery from the South of France, a bull-racer notices disturbing changes occurring around her following an injury. Music fans will surely enjoy the surprisingly light-hearted biopic Midas Man about Beatles manager Brian Epstein.

And everyone should put closing night on their calendar, as the SBFF feature the American premiere from Spain with Gala Gracia's first feature film, The Remnants of You. This masterfully subtle film follows a woman putting her career as a jazz pianist on hold following the sudden death of her father, which showcases an evocative solo piano score by Filipe Raposo.

The Festival is more than a cinematic event—it's a cultural experience. Two feature films each evening,—each preceded by a short film—are shown on the Center's 40-foot screen, often followed by intimate Q&As with the filmmakers, cast, and crew.

"We are very excited to have filmmakers from all over the world join us for their premiere screenings. Our audiences can gather in a huge theater with Long Island's largest screen, to see movies the way they were meant to be seen," says SBFF & Staller Center Director, Alan Inkles.

The Stony Brook Film Festival is presented by Staller Center for the Arts at Stony Brook University with support from Suffolk County, Campolo, Middleton, & McCormick, LLP, Strata Alliance, News 12, and WLIW.

Ticket information

All screenings are held at Stony Brook University's Staller Center for the Arts, 100 Nicolls Road, Stony Brook in the 1,000-seat Main Stage theater.

Stony Brook Film Festival pass options include a VIP Gold Pass for $250 and a Regular Pass for $100, granting access to all ten days of the festival, and the Flex Pass for $75. Individual tickets — $15 adults, $13.50 seniors — are also available after July 1.

The Gold Pass includes VIP access to Opening and Closing Night parties, which include hors d'oeuvres, drinks, and a chance to mingle with filmmakers and festival goers alike. The Opening Night party will be hosted at Elaine's Restaurant and Bar in East Setauket immediately following the Opening Night Feature film Q&A. This year's Closing Night party will be at Curry Club at SaGhar in Port Jefferson Village.

This, along with guaranteed seating in a VIP reserved area of the theatre with filmmakers and actors, first admittance to the theatre for all screenings, and an exclusive festival gift, makes the Gold Pass (which is the price of one premiere screening at Sundance) a fantastic value and the best way to enjoy the entire festival experience!

The Flex Pass is perfect for someone with a jam-packed summer, the Flex Pass grants access to any five days of the festival (excluding Closing Night). It is the perfect opportunity for film fest discovery with the added benefit of flexibility at an affordable price.

All passholders receive guaranteed Priority Seating, Q&As with filmmakers, voting eligibility for the Audience Choice Awards, discounts at partner locations, and a festival gift. Each pass has added perks at different levels. Friends of Staller Members also get a reduced rate when using their Member discount at checkout.

Tickets may be purchased at stonybrookfilmfestival.com/pass. For more information, call the box office at 631-632-2787 or visit www.stonybrookfilmfestival.com.

Top Summer Reads

Summer is the perfect time to read a book and who better to ask for suggestions than our local librarians? From love stories to thrillers and everything in between, these newly released books are the top picks to add to your list. A special thanks to all of the libraries that participated in our survey.

For Adults

Atmosphere: A Love Story

by Taylor Jenkins Reid

"From the bestselling author of Daisy Jones & the Six and The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo, comes this engrossing tale to kick off the summer. Following female astronauts in the 1980s, her characters wrestle with sexism, identity, and forbidden romance in the fast-paced world of the space program. If you enjoy stories with both action and emotional depth you can't go wrong adding this to your TBR list!"

— Christine Parker-Morales, Adult Services Librarian, Comsewogue Public Library

The Tenant

by Freida McFadden

"McFadden's books are perfect beach reads if you like a thriller with a twist. The Tenant is the best selling author's latest book that is sure to have you on the edge of your seat."

— Erin Schaarschmidt, Head of Adult Services at Port Jefferson Free Library

Not Quite Dead Yet

by Holly Jackson

"Holly Jackson's adult debut is a twisty thriller where a woman has to solve her own murder."

— Elizabeth M., Librarian, Middle Country Public Library

Jane and Dan at the End of the World

by Colleen Oakley

"[This book] is a whirlwind of fun. It's entertaining, smart and funny. The perfect summer read."

— Ralyn Tucker, Adult Reference Librarian, Emma Clark Library

One Italian Summer

by Rebecca Serle

"This novel blends grief, self-discovery, and magical realism in the beautiful Amalfi Coast. Katy, devastated by the death of her mother and best friend, Carol, embarks alone on a trip they had planned to take together to Positano, Italy. It is there that Katy meets her mother — not as she knew her, but as a vibrant 30-year-old woman. This reunion forces Katy to see her mother in a new light and reevaluate the course of her own life. It is a moving novel that lets you reflect on love, family, and finding oneself after loss."

— Amanda Lentino, Adult Reference Coordinator, The Smithtown Library

For Teens/Tweens

Honeysuckle and Bone

by Trisha Tobias

"[This book] is a modern gothic thriller, reminiscent of the classic novella, 'The Turn of the Screw,' crossed with modern YA mystery tropes. It's set in a lushly detailed environment that screams for a film adaptation. This new YA book is not to miss!"

— Emily Ostrander, Head Librarian of the Teen & Tween Services Department, Emma Clark Library

Sunrise on the Reaping

by Suzanne Collins

Sunrise on the Reaping revisits the world of Panem twenty-four years before the events of The Hunger Games, starting on the morning of the reaping of the Fiftieth Hunger Games, also known as the Second Quarter Quell.

— Kristine T., Librarian, Middle Country Public Library

The Romantic Tragedies of a Drama King

by Harry Trevaldwyne

— Sal Filosa, Head of Teen and Technical Services at Port Jefferson Free Library

After Life

by Gayle Forman

[This book] is an emotional and thought-provoking story that explores grief, identity, and the importance of second chances. The characters feel relatable, making it easy to connect with their struggles and growth. The book's heartfelt message and compelling storytelling make it hard to put down.

— Colleen Navins, Teen Services Coordinator, The Smithtown Library

For Children

Cincinnati Lee, Curse Breaker

by Heidi Heilig

"Children will love reading this book for its fast-paced adventure, clever twists, and a hero they can root for. With a mysterious curse to unravel, magical secrets around every corner, and the excitement of travel and exploration without ever leaving home, it's the perfect page-turner to spark imaginations. Young readers will be hooked from the first chapter!"

— Marcela Lenihan, Children's Librarian, Emma Clark Library

Other recommendations include:

"Sylvia Doe and the 100-Year Flood" by Robert Beatty (8-12 Years) — Kimberly Manise, Head of Children's Services, Port Jefferson Free Library

"Don't Trust Fish" by Neil Sharpson (3-6 year-olds) — Cassidy O., Middle Country Public Library

"Will the Pigeon Graduate?" by Mo Willems — Maggie Moloney, Children's Services Coordinator, The Smithtown Library

"Swimming into Trouble" by Angela Ahn (1st through 3rd grades) — By Tracy L., Librarian, Middle Country Public Library

"Will the Pigeon Graduate?" by Mo Willems — Maggie Moloney, Children's Services Coordinator, The Smithtown Library

"Monster Locker" by Jorge Augusto Aguirre (4th through 6th grades) — Kristen T., Middle Country Public Library

"Nothing Bad Happens Here" by Rachel Ekstrom-Courage — Jenny Cammarano, Library, Comsewogue Public Library

Cool down with watermelon

From lazy days by the pool to weekend road trips and everything in between, summer is packed with adventures. To cool down quickly from all those warm-weather activities, try the following recipes using versatile, flavorful watermelon, courtesy of National Watermelon Board.

Watermelon Salad

Recipe courtesy of National Watermelon Board

Yield: Serves 4 to 6

Ingredients:

- 1/4 cup lemon vinaigrette
- 4 cups cubed watermelon
- 1/2 English cucumber cut into 1/4-inch half moons
- 1/2 small red onion thinly sliced
- 1/4 cup crumbled feta cheese
- 2 tablespoons fresh mint roughly chopped

Directions:

Drizzle vinaigrette in bottom of large canning jar. Layer with watermelon, cucumber, red onion, feta and mint. Cover tightly with lid and shake to combine. Keep refrigerated until ready to serve.

Substitution: You can use Greek or balsamic vinaigrette dressing in place of lemon vinaigrette.

Roasted Salmon with Watermelon Salsa

Yield: Serves 4

Ingredients:

- 1 lb salmon, cut into 4 filets
- 1 teaspoon ground coriander
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 2 limes
- 2 cups finely diced watermelon
- 1 cup finely diced cucumber
- 1/2 cup finely diced red onion
- 3 tablespoons chopped fresh mint
- 3 tablespoons chopped fresh cilantro
- Salt and pepper, to taste

Directions:

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F.

Place the salmon filets on a foil-lined baking sheet, rub evenly with the coriander and chili powder, then juice one of the limes over the filets and season with salt and pepper. Roast the salmon for 10-15 minutes, depending on thickness, until the fish flakes easily with a fork.

For the salsa: combine the juice of remaining lime, watermelon, cucumber, red onion, mint, and cilantro in a medium bowl. Stir to combine and season to taste with salt and pepper.

To serve, top the roasted salmon generously with watermelon salsa and serve atop a bed of your favorite carb (quinoa, brown rice, potatoes, etc.)

Watermelon Soda Float

Yield: Serves 1

Ingredients:

- 2 scoops Vanilla Ice cream
- 12 watermelon balls
- 1/2 cup watermelon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon lime zest
- 1/2 cup fizzy water

Directions:

Mix lime zest with watermelon water. Place 6 watermelon balls in tall glass. Add 1 scoop of vanilla ice cream. Add in remaining watermelon balls. Add 2nd scoop of ice cream. Pour watermelon water over the watermelon balls and ice cream. Top with the fizzy water for bubbles, club soda or other flavored carbonated water.

Watermelon Ice Pops

Yield: Serves 6

Ingredients:

- 1 watermelon
- chunks of fresh fruit such as grapes, strawberries or kiwi

Directions:

Puree watermelon and pour into ice pop molds. Drop in chunks of fresh fruit, insert caps and place in freezer. Serve when frozen.

2025 Summer Movie Guide

BY TIM HAGGERTY & JEFFREY SANZEL

Summer means beaches and vacations. But diversions also include an entire roster of summer movie releases. Here is an overview of some of the more exciting films coming to the big screen.

Elio

Pixar's newest animated adventure focuses on eleven-year-old Elio, whose belief in intelligent life forms in the galaxy proves true. The real twist comes when the aliens decide that Elio is Earth's one true leader. Coco veteran Madeline Sharafian and Domee Shi co-direct.

Rated PG • Release date June 20

28 Years Later

The third in the dystopian series (28 Days Later and 28 Weeks Later) picks up nearly three decades later. The violent, virus-ridden zombies still live among us, making things difficult for dad Aaron Taylor-Johnson and his son Alfie Williams. Jodie Comer and Ralph Fiennes are among the non-infected fighting off the walking not-quite-dead.

Rated R • Release date June 20

F1 The Movie

Sorry Baby

The big discovery of this year's Sundance Film Festival, writer-director-star Eva Victor's film follows a woman returning to her former alma mater as a professor — the same university that was the site of a trauma with which she has never come to terms. Harrowing, hilarious, and not a little fractured, Victor's debut makes her an exciting new multi-hyphenate.

Jurassic World Rebirth

Because you can't keep a lucrative franchise—or a carnivorous dinosaur—down! Scarlett Johansson leads an operation designed to track down the few remaining dinosaurs left after Jurassic World: Dominion.

Rated PG-13 • Release date July 2

Superman

Clearly, Superman is the most anticipated movie of the summer. David Corenswet dons the red cape to play the Man of Steel and his alter ego, Clark Kent; Rachel Brosnahan is Lois Lane; Nicholas Hoult is arch enemy master villain Lex Luthor. James Gunn's first big project in the DC Cinematic Universe 2.0 even includes Krypto the Dog.

Rated PG-13 • Release date July 11

I Know What You Did Last Summer

The popular fisherman-with-a-hook 1997 slasher gets a "requel": meaning a "reboot" and "sequel." Jennifer Love Hewitt and Freddie Prinze Jr. return along with a host of new faces (Sarah Pidgeon, Chase Sui Wonders, Madelyn Cline, Jonah Hauer-King, Tyriq Winters).

Rated R • Release date July 18

Eddington

The town is Eddington, New Mexico, and the battle is between the Southwestern hamlet's "law-and-order" sheriff (Joaquin Phoenix) and its mayor (Pedro Pascal). The man behind the camera is writer-director Ari Aster (Hereditary, Midsommar, Beau Is Afraid), so things are likely to get good and weird.

Fantastic Four: First Steps

Once again (or in this case third time's a charm), Marvel is attempting to turn the popular comic into a top-tier superhero movie. Pedro Pascal, Vanessa Kirby, Joseph Quinn, and Ebon Moss-Bachrach are the famous and fabulous quartet.

Not Yet Rated • Release date July 25

Together

Michael Shanks directs real-life spouses Dave Franco and Alison Brie who become much closer in this body-horror film that takes lending a hand to a whole new level.

Rated R • Release date July 30

The Naked Gun 4: Rhythm of Evil

Lonely Island director Akiva Schaffer directs Liam Neeson (yes, Oskar Schindler) as Frank Drebin, the role indelibly created by Leslie Nielsen in this fourth entry to the ridiculous Police Squad world.

Not Yet Rated • Release date August 1

Freakier Friday

Jamie Lee Curtis and Lindsay Lohan reunite after twenty years for the sequel to the 2003 remake of Mary Rodgers' Freaky

Friday. The body-switching comedy promises comedy, if not nostalgia.

Not Yet Rated • Release date August 8

Honey Don't!

Filmmaker Ethan Coen and co-writer/editor/life-partner-in-crime Tricia Cooke offer the second of their proposed "lesbian B-movie trilogy," with Margaret Qualley (Drive-Away Dolls) playing hardboiled detective Honey O'Donoghue, a throwback gumshoe with both moxie and verve.

Rated R • Release date August 22

Americana

A highly prized Native American artifact leads a host of intriguing characters down a dangerous path in this wildly entertaining present-day western.

Lurker

Another standout from Sundance, writer-director Alex Russell's debut takes a well-worn subject — the disparity of power between the famous and the famous-adjacent — and manifesting danger and cringeworthy comedy.

Caught Stealing

Darren Aronofsky directs this NYC crime thriller, in which several Lower East Side characters — a former baseball star (Austin Butler), his EMT girlfriend (Zoë Kravitz), his punk-rocker neighbor (Matt Smith), and a variety of gangsters and thugs circa 1998 — find themselves involved in missing Mob money.

Rated R • Release date August 29

The Roses

Benedict Cumberbatch and Olivia Colman star in a remake of the 1989 dark comedy, which starred Michael Douglas and Kathleen Turner. One of the most bitter battles of marital strife, the new outing promises to be as bleak and venomous as the original.

Old Burying Ground Tours

Fall dates only! Join the Huntington Historical Society for a guided walking tour of Huntington's earliest public burying ground, established soon after the Town's 1653 founding, on Oct. 25 at 3 p.m. (rain date Oct. 26); and Nov. 8 at 3 p.m. (rain date Nov. 9). View stunning folk art and beautiful epitaphs while listening to stories of Huntington's residents and rich history. Meet at the Soldiers & Sailors Memorial Building, 228 Main Street, Huntington, which was built in 1892 as a memorial to the Huntington residents who died in the Civil War. Rain date is the next day. Tickets are $15 adults, $10 members, $5 children. Reservations are required. 631-427-7045, www.huntingtonhistoricalsociety.org

Joseph Lloyd Manor House

Preservation Long Island offers weekend tours of the Joseph Lloyd Manor, 1 Lloyd Lane, Lloyd Harbor at 11 a.m., 12:30 p.m. and 2 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday through Oct. 12. Joseph Lloyd Manor was completed in 1767 for Joseph Lloyd (1716-1780). Here, Jupiter Hammon, one of America's first published black writers, composed his best-known works while enslaved by the Lloyd family. This guided tour will lead visitors through the first and second floor of the Manor, and will provide visitors the opportunity to consider and discuss the complicated history of a successful merchant family divided by war alongside the perspective of a man in bondage reflecting on liberty in the newly formed United States. Tickets are $10 adults, $5 ages 10 to 18, free for children ages 9 and under. To reserve your spot, visit www.preservationlongisland.org/tours/.

Lighthouse Tours

The Huntington Lighthouse Preservation Society hosts guided tours of the historic Huntington Lighthouse on June 22, July 13, July 27, Aug. 10, Aug. 24, Sept. 14 and Sept. 28. Built in 1912, it is on the National Register of Historic Places. Enjoy a boat ride out and back to the lighthouse, and learn about the history of the Huntington lighthouse, how it was saved from demolition by a dedicated group of volunteers, and the important role it continues to play as a working navigational aid. One hour boat tour leaves from Gold Star Battalion Beach, 324 West Shore Road, Huntington continuously starting at 11 a.m. Last boat departs at 3 p.m. *Not handicapped accessible. Flat rubber soled shoes required (no flip flops). Tickets are $30 adults, $25 seniors, $20 children ages 5 to 12. Register at www.huntingtonlighthouse.org/tours. 631-421-1985

Miller Place

Miller House Tours

The Miller Place-Mount Sinai Historical Society offers private guided tours of the William Miller House, circa 1720, 75 North Country Road, Miller Place by appointment only. The house consists of three sections: the middle room—built in 1720 is the original section, the second house was attached to the west end of the house in 1750 and a third house was brought to the site and added to the east end of the house in 1816. The house is a significant historical structure as very little of the interior has been changed in the almost 300 year existence. To book a tour, email info@mpmshistoricalsociety.org or call 631-476-5742. www.mpmshistoricalsociety.org

Sea Glass Festival returns to the Whaling Museum July 20

The Whaling Museum and Education Center in Cold Spring Harbor has announced the turn of its Sea Glass Festival, which features an array of new activities and enriched experiences for the 2025 season. Set to take place on Sunday, July 20, 2 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., this popular family-friendly event will celebrate the history, artistry, and allure of sea glass, now with an expanded presence on historic Main Street in Cold Spring Harbor.

The event is the only one of its kind in the region and is the museum's largest community event which welcomes 1,000 attendees. It is supported in part with funds awarded through a grant from Suffolk County Economic Development and Planning.

The day will feature all new presentations from Mary McCarthy, former Education Chair and Vice President of the North American Sea Glass Association and George WM Fisher, author of multiple books on Long Island's bottles and medicines companies.

The Museum's second annual Sea Glass Fiction Contest winners will be announced and winners will be presented with their awards by Nomi Dayan, Executive Director at The Whaling Museum and reporter Daniel Dunaief of TBR News Media. All three presentations will take place at Preservation Long Island, a 5-minute walk from the museum.

The Sea Glass Festival will also offer an exciting array of over 20 sea glass vendors, sea glass crafts provided by OneRiver Woodbury and a fascinating look at glass blowing by Ro's Glass Works.

The Cold Spring Harbor Firehouse Museum will offer free entry to Sea Glass participants and Sweetie Pies on Main created a special Sea Glass drink for purchase. There will also be a town wide Sea Glass Scavenger Hunt along Cold Spring Harbor's business district. Tumbled by the Sea will have their very own "Buoy the Bus" in front of the museum. The bus remains stationary while participants enjoy a one-of-a-kind experience through self-guided tours and interactive activities.

Other great activities include live music by Rory Kelly, author talk by Roxie Zwicker, food trucks and more. Also, visitors are encouraged to bring their antique bottles to be appraised by Long Island Antique Bottle Association (LIABA).

General admission is $20 for adults and children ages 3 and up. For more information, call 631-369-3418 or visit cshwhalingmuseum.org/seaglass.
